

ARTS SCHOOLS NETWORK

Who We Are:

Arts Schools Network is a collective group of arts leaders and thought partners joined together in their pursuit to be valuable contributors in the arts learning ecosystem. Our membership includes leaders from K-12 arts schools, universities, colleges, organizations and individual members from across the country.

What We Do:

Arts Schools Network empowers leaders of arts schools by connecting them regionally, nationally and internationally. Together, they share experiences and expertise in such areas as planning, facilities, finance, and fundraising, admissions and recruitment, teacher training, arts integration, community and parent relations, evaluation, career development, and much more.
